Objects of Our Obsession

1. CLOUD BOWL

Made by hand in North Carolina, this bowl is perfect for my three essential food groups: cereal, soup and ice cream. From $28; haand.us. —Maren Ellingboe

2. TRAVEL MUG

Plastic travel mugs are hard to get really clean—which makes me nuts. Joco's glass cup saves my sanity. From $23; jococups.com. —Christine Quinlan

3. CAST-IRON WOK

F&W Chef-in-Residence Andrew Zimmern is channeling his travel expertise into global kitchen tools. My favorite: this heavy-duty, oven-safe wok. $130; chefscatalog.com. —Kate Heddings

4. KIMCHI PASTE

When I don't have weeks to wait for cabbage to ferment, I use this spicy chile-garlic paste to make a kind of instant kimchi. From $15 for 6 oz.; kimchirules.com. —Justin Chapple

5. HANDMADE NAPKINS

Printed with eco-friendly ink, these cotton-hemp napkins get softer with each wash. $72 for 6; shapes-colors.com. —ME

6. STEEL ISLAND

Vipp's customizable, industrial-inspired island is like a mini kitchen with a cooktop, sink and tons of storage. From $30,000; vipp.com. —CQ

7. HEALTHY ICED TEA

Harmless Harvest helped make coconut water an "it" drink; now they're producing refreshing cold-brewed teas. $3 for 10 oz.; harmlessharvest.com. —Kay Chun

8. CHOCOLATE SNACK

I spread Wayward's velvety ganache on peasant bread, then griddle until the chocolate's warm and melty. $15 for 16 oz.; waywardchocolat.com. —Julia Heffelfinger

9. FARMSTEAD CHEESE

Luscious, lightly tangy Moonlight Chaurce from New York's Chaseholm Farm is one of the best cheeses I've ever had. $10 for 8 oz.; chaseholmfarmcreamery.com. —Tina Ujlaki

10. NEW ZEALAND FARMSTAY

I'd love to take a cooking class or help herd sheep at one of Annandale's four luxurious villas, located on a working farm outside Christchurch.

VILLAS FROM $570; ANNANDALE.COM.
